

Women Dance for Earth®

Tribal Alliance

WDfE is a spiritual and ecological movement based on dance and ecology.

"Never doubt that change comes from a small group of conscious, committed people"

Margaret Mead

Roots

I discovered this path in a women's circle, then in dance and various other groups.

Long oppressed by male domination, women need to recover their sacred place, but I feel this is best done when men also recover theirs. Many men today are seeking to do so. This reconnection of human beings is indispensable to recover our powerful relationship with our inner selves and the earth which is our home.

For me, to "enter the sacred" means overcoming the divisions of the past through deep contact with nature, opening us to the non-tangible realities which give our lives meaning. This is anchored in the unification of body, soul and mind which is the key to magic.

Why WoMenDanceforEarth?

Let us be the source of the solutions we offer. May women and men gather and move towards their spirituality, reconnecting with nature. WDfE seeks to unite women and men from all tribes through dance in order to develop our inner space and to act concretely to protect our earth by funding NGOs that work to protect the biosphere.

Dance and meditation are the heart of this project which is focused on oneself and others physically and aims to discover the complementarity of women and men and create symbolic rituals of dance to make the invisible visible and to link the inside and outside, the material and the spiritual, the earth and the sky.

The goal is to enter harmoniously into the sacred via ritual dance and move toward our common goal of protecting the earth, and re-enchanting our world.

For whom is WoMenDanceforEarth?

It's for all those women and men who wish to do their part in the creation of a new action for the planet together.

It's for all those who organize circles or groups and who see the strength of collective action to dance for transformation.

It's for all those who want a new vision of relationships to enter the world of business.

Three concrete pillars of this action.

WDfE is an embryo that will evolve with time and encounters.

- The meeting of various groups and tribes in places that contain sacred energy in order to experience joyful awareness of our bodies and movement. These meetings will finance our actions of support and donations.
- Female solidarity. For women who can't be part of these meetings, we wish to organize events and actions open to everyone.
- Developing complementarity in companies. Introduce this vision of complementarity in companies. They are a place of life which can have social and political goals. Help focus on the role of women in companies via dance. A real challenge.
